

Exploring leadership training is designed to provide all youth and adult leaders with a series of simple but effective training opportunities that will meet the varying needs of Exploring leaders. All sessions are flexible so that the council training team can construct the best plan to meet local conditions. The plan requires a minimum of equipment and materials and is scripted to support those instructors with limited Exploring experience.

The continuing success of Exploring across America depends upon the program skill and enthusiasm of volunteer adult leaders. It is hoped that this plan will provide them the necessary knowledge and inspiration.

OBJECTIVES

The Exploring leadership training plan is designed to:

- Convey an understanding of how Exploring achieves the purposes of the Boy Scouts of America.
- Teach the best methods of program planning and use of resources.
- Give insight into the skills of leadership.
- Provide ongoing opportunities for communication, idea sharing, and updating of techniques.
- Share information about local and national program support, activities, and resources.
- Provide each leader with the specific skills and tools available for his or her job.
- Encourage recognition and inspiration for all leaders.

DEFINITION OF A TRAINED EXPLORER LEADER

An adult Explorer leader is considered to be trained after completing the sessions found in either the group or self-study courses in Adult Explorer Leader Basic Training or equivalent training for leaders in highly specialized programs of special interest posts.

New Posts Start-Up Orientation (Advisor Fast Start training), No. 23-878, shows how using the Exploring program planning process can get an Explorer post up and running and off to a successful start. It also provides helpful information for the first meeting between Advisors and youth. Details on post operations, program planning, and elected youth officer training can be found in the Explorer Leader Handbook, No. 34637. New Posts Start-Up Orientation is included in the Explorer Post New Unit Kit, No. 23-909.

Adult Explorer Leader Basic Training, No. 34633, is designed to introduce adult Explorer post leaders to Exploring to provide the basic information needed for operating a post. This includes the (1) purpose and mission of Exploring; (2) characteristics of Explorer-age youth; (3) organization and leadership of the post; and (4) program planning and officer training. The course can be offered in four separate sessions, in two longer sessions, or in one day with a lunch break.

Adult Explorer Leader Basic Training Self-Study Course, No. 23-314, is a program designed so that leaders who cannot attend regular courses can study the literature on their own. Group training courses and the self-study course help all Exploring leaders, regardless of their positions, to complete basic training.

This training experience is conducted by the post Advisor or ship Skipper to orient newly elected youth officers, plan programs, and develop the annual post activity schedule. The seminar outline can be found in the Advisors section of the Explorer Leader Handbook, No. 34637.
